

ملخص النص

University researchers face challenges in producing high-quality papers due to grammatical errors, plagiarism, and concise summarization difficulties. These issues compromise clarity, originality, and academic standards. Robust plagiarism detection is crucial to ensure originality and maintain academic integrity, preventing penalties for unoriginal work. Effective solutions are needed to improve research