ملخص النص

University researchers face significant challenges in producing high-quality papers. Grammatical errors, plagiarism concerns stemming from similar content, and difficulties summarizing complex research concisely hinder their work. These issues affect clarity, originality, and knowledge dissemination, negatively impacting academic success. Enhanced writing assistance and plagiarism detection tools are urgently needed.